Disabled couple devastated by theft of mobility scooters

HOUSEBOUND: Roy and Jay Ashbee (photo: HAR0829239)

A DISABLED couple who both suffer a number of serious ailments have been left housebound after thieves stole their two mobility scooters.

Roy and Joy Ashbee, from Old Harlow, were woken at 5.30am on Tuesday by a passer-by who told them their garage had been burgled during the night.

The couple, both aged 78, were devastated to discover their two electric mobility scooters worth thousands of pounds had been taken.

One was later found abandoned in a nearby underpass after being smashed up by the thieves.

Mr Ashbee, who has suffered mobility problems since experiencing complications after a hip replacement 10 years ago, is currently undergoing treatment for prostate cancer, chronic anaemia, myelodysplasia, diabetes and kidney failure.

He said his wife had been left particularly distraught by the thefts.

"We are both disabled, though my wife's symptoms are more severe than mine," he said. "She suffers chronic obstructive pulmonary disease which means she cannot walk more than 10 yards before struggling to breathe.

"When we were woken to the news that both our scooters had been stolen she was absolutely gutted. Without that scooter she cannot leave the house; it just seems such a cruel thing to do."

He said the damaged scooter would cost around £200 to repair, adding: "Unfortunately I didn't have it insured as I never expected to be in this situation.

"They smashed up all the front of it and cut the wires, presumably to hot wire it, before dumping it on its side. The other one is quite a distinctive silver colour, so perhaps there is still a chance of someone spotting it and it being retrieved.

"I never thought anyone could stoop so low as to steal what is obviously a vulnerable person's mobility scooter. They must be

Mythical champion to lead parade through town centre

AN ancient Greek 'champion' will head a procession through Harlow town centre this weekend.

Sunday's spectacular Sparks Will Fly event to celebrate the 2012 Games will see Boreas Zephyr – Greek god of the north winds – joined by more than 100 local performers to complete the Harlow leg of his journey across Essex.

Boreas, pictured far right, is currently on a journey around the county collecting giant beads which he will use to play in a spectacular fiery showdown against another ancient champion –

Marina Mightier – at Hylands Park in Chelmsford on July 6.

The game will coincide with the arrival in Essex of the Olympic torch.

On Sunday Boreas will be presented with Harlow's glass bead, which has been created by local artist Amanda Westbury and features miniature replicas of many of the town's public collection of sculptures, in Market Square.

The fun gets under way at 1pm when the procession, led by Boreas in a chariot, starts from Gatehouse Arts in West Gate. Fifty dancers from Stewards

School will be performing a choreographed routine with a community band of more than 60 musicians.

The procession will stop at the flagpoles in Market Square to allow Boreas to disembark from his carriage and lead the parade to the top of Broad Walk for a performance by the band of a piece of music created for the occasion.

The parade will continue on to the Water Gardens before heading back to the Market Square for the presentation of the bead, which is currently on public display in the Civic Centre.

Entertainment will continue in the main stage area of square until 6pm, where there will also be a headphone party organised by Harlow Youth Council and a range of stalls providing refreshments and arts and crafts activities inspired by London 2012.

Lynn Seward, Harlow Council's head of community and customer services, said: "The procession is going to be a spectacle not to be missed. This is going to be a fantastic event in preparation for the Olympic flame and torch relay coming to Harlow on July 7."

Medtech centre to be built in Harlow

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

AMBITIOUS plans to create thousands of new jobs by attracting medical technology firms to Harlow's new Enterprise Zone were unveiled this week.

The Anglia Ruskin MedTech Campus will see three sites set up in Harlow, Chelmsford and Southend-on-Sea in a joint venture between the university and local authorities.

The Government-backed initiative, which was officially launched by Health Minister Earl Howe in the House of Commons on Tuesday, aims to create a UK hub for companies specialising in medical research, testing, manufacturing and clinical trials.

Each site would feature an 'innovation centre' and provide business networking and support services to enable firms to work alongside researchers at the university and medical professionals from the NHS in what has been envisioned as "one of the world's largest health innovation spaces".

The project's backers claim it could ultimately create up to 12,500 new jobs and help expand the UK's medical technology sector by £1.2bn, although £500m of private investment will be needed to ensure its delivery.

Anglia Ruskin vice-chancellor Michael Thorne said: "Our vision for the Anglia Ruskin MedTech Campus is as a globally leading centre for medical innovation, building on our world-leading research in subjects allied to medicine and the solid partnerships we have built up over the years with the healthcare sector and with industry."

Although the exact location of the Harlow campus has yet to be finalised, Harlow Council chief executive Malcolm Morley revealed it would be closely linked with the town's Enterprise Zone sites in the Templefields and London Road industrial areas.

"Harlow is a centre of innovation and has recently gained Enterprise Zone status focusing on medical technology, advanced manufacturing and ICT," he added.

"The Anglia Ruskin MedTech Campus is a great fit with the Enterprise Zone and the aspirations of the town, and it will leverage the town's comparative advantages."

Vince's name lives on with road naming

AN "inspirational" Harlow resident has had a road named after him seven years after his death.

Vince Dunn was licensee of the Marquis of Granby public house in Market Street, Old Harlow, for 40 years. He was also well known for his various roles in the community which included chairman of Harlow Cricket Club and a trustee of the Memorial University of Newfoundland.

He died from cancer in 2005 but now his name will live on in Vince Dunn Mews, a new development off Station Road in Old Harlow.

Council chief executive Malcolm Morley said: "When completed, Vince Dunn Mews will be an important part of the wider regeneration projects being led by the council and will secure six houses and six flats for people on the council's housing register."

Liz sets off to cycle the length of the UK

WHILE many will have spent the weekend relaxing, one woman was saddled with the enormous challenge of beginning a 1,000-mile bike ride.

Liz O'Hare (53), of Longfield, Harlow, should now be almost halfway to completing her two-week cycling challenge from Land's End to John O'Groats after setting off on Saturday morning with friend Nigel Saunders.

Liz, a fitness manager at Paringdon Sports Club, will be required to pedal 75 miles a day in all kinds of weather conditions to complete the gruelling feat. However, she says it will be worth it to raise money for her chosen charity, MIND.

"I think most people know of someone who has had problems with their mental health at some point in their lives," said Liz. "I have had family members suffer with mental problems and know the impact it has on both them and their loved ones."

"Yet it is because of charities like MIND that these people get the support they need and are able to again think positively about the future. I think they are a fantastic charity and I am only too keen to support them."

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Although Liz has taken part in several other cycling events such as the London to Brighton bike ride, she says this will be the furthest distance she has ever attempted.

"My biggest worry is the weather, although I feel I have trained as much as I possibly can so physically and mentally feel good about it," she said.

"It will still no doubt be a huge challenge but then I like that as I think it is comparative to the people I am trying to help. They are facing their own personal challenges every day and just as I will be relying on my team mates to help pick me up when things get tough, they require some extra support now and again provided by groups like MIND."

"Essentially life is one big challenge. I just hope the money I raise will make it a bit easier for people finding things particularly difficult right now."

Anyone wanting to sponsor Liz can do so by visiting her webpage at www.virginmoneygiving.com/team/mind36.

Enjoy day of fun for all the family

A COMMUNITY fun day takes place in Harlow on Saturday to raise money for two worthy causes.

After forming strong relationships through a group on social networking site Facebook, members decided it would be nice to open up their online community with a family day in aid of the Princess Alexandra Hospital and The Royal Brompton.

"It will be a great day out for all and it will raise money for two causes close to our members' hearts," explained co-organiser Chris Farmer.

"It has been arranged to have something for everyone, with a focus on family fun in the afternoon and entertainment for adults in the evening."

The midday to midnight event takes place at the Golden Swift pub in Hare Street. It will feature live music throughout the day as well as a bouncy castle, a visit by animals from Pets' Corner, a barbecue and a raffle with prizes including VIP tickets to Sugar Hut.

"We now just hope as many people as possible will turn up, enjoy themselves and make some new friends," added Chris.

For more information, call Chris on 07841 752742.

Charity's appeal to help homeless

A HARLOW-based charity for the homeless is putting out an urgent appeal for donations of clothes and toiletries.

As well as helping to find accommodation for those that suddenly find themselves with nowhere to live, Streets2Homes provides people with access to washing facilities, food and clothing.

However, the group is extremely low on resources and is asking for the public's help with donations of unwanted items.

"We are in urgent need of clothes, particularly men's, and toiletries to help us with the work we do," said manager Kerrie Eastman. "It is items like deodorant, shaving gel and razors and we would also be interested in taking stuff like old sleeping bags or tents."

"Anything anyone can provide will be hugely appreciated and is guaranteed to be given directly to local people requiring a bit of extra help."

Anyone able to make a donation can either drop it off directly at the charity's premises at 2A Wych Elm or call (01279) 430011.

St Clare lottery

THE winner of the £1,000 prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, May 18 is ticket holder 277786, who lives in Epping.

The second prize of £100 goes to the holder of ticket number 832254, who lives in Harlow.

Unlucky break can't stop Ruth running her first marathon

DESPITE being out of action for almost two months after breaking her wrist, a Harlow woman will be taking part in her first marathon to raise money for a wildlife rescue charity.

Things were looking bleak for Harlow Badger Group member Ruth Barnes when her training schedule was disrupted after she broke her wrist on Christmas morning and was advised not to run for at least six weeks.

However, the 47-year-old managed to catch up and is now preparing to tackle the Edinburgh Marathon this weekend to raise funds for Secret World Wildlife Rescue, a group which care for sick, injured and orphaned animals.

Ruth, of The Dashes, said she was keen to raise funds for the charity because of the many occasions they had helped animals picked up by Harlow Badger Group.

"I have been running for about 10 years and have a few half marathons under my belt but was finally convinced by a friend it was time to try a marathon," she said.

"I have been a member of the Harlow Badger Group since it started so was keen to raise funds through the marathon for something that supported them. Secret World Wildlife Rescue take on a lot of our injured animals and do a fantastic job protecting British wildlife, so it seemed like the best option."

Ruth is hoping to raise £1,000 for the charity's fund to build a wildlife teaching hospital at their Somerset base. To make a donation visit www.secretworld.org/fundraising\_callofthewild.

Passing cyclist may be a key witness to violent robbery

DETECTIVES investigating a robbery during which a householder was punched in the face have this week released CCTV images of the suspects.

The attack happened in Harlow Common shortly before 6pm on Saturday, May 12 when four men forced their way into the property.

The 58-year-old occupant, who was hit in the face when he answered the door, suffered cuts and bruises.

The thieves stole two mobile phones before leaving in a silver Audi A3 with a part registration of 61.

Police want to talk a cyclist who was passing the property at the time of the incident and may be an important witness.

They also want to trace the drivers of four cars – a blue Mini with a Union Jack on the roof and silver side skirts, a Peugeot 307, a Toyota Corolla or Avenis and a black Audi TT – which were seen in the area at the time.

Anyone with information about the robbery or who recognises any of the men in the CCTV images should call Harlow police station on 101.

Bank volunteers get a taste for DIY

BARCLAYS' staff swapped one bank for another when they gave up their time to help a Harlow-based charity.

Twenty-five volunteers from Barclays' branches across Herts and Essex helped refurbish the Great Pardon warehouse used by Harlow Foodbank, an organisation which offers support to families in times of financial crisis.

In addition to funding and fitting some new shelving to expand the storage facilities, the Barclays team repainted the main hall and kitchen and helped make up some food parcels to send out to those in need.

Foodbank spokesman Gary Knott said: "They did a fantastic job and it was a brilliant way of giving something back to the community."

"The need for our service has increased quite dramatically and we needed more storage to store and sort donations so we are very grateful to Barclays. The atmosphere was wonderful and everyone mucked in."

Tracey Dodd, Barclays' community and commercial manager, said the bank was keen to get behind local charities which support its customers and the wider community.

"Our staff are really excited to work with the local community and be seen as a force for good," she said.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MAN narrowly avoided being fatally stabbed when his heart was "nicked" by the blade of a pair of scissors during an attack, a court was told.

Barry Thompson was taken to hospital in an air ambulance where emergency surgery saved him from bleeding to death, a jury at Chelmsford Crown Court heard.

The alarm was raised by his attacker – Barry Payne (46,) of Northbrooks, Harlow – who dialed 999 and told the operator "I stabbed him".

However, the jury was told that Payne could not give a reason for the attack except to say he heard voices in his head.

Although Payne does not dispute he stabbed Mr Thompson, he denies charges of attempted murder and wounding with intent to cause grievous bodily harm.

Stephen Rose, prosecuting, said: "At about 7.45am on June 10 last year police received a 999 call and the caller identified himself as Payne who told the operator he had just stabbed somebody."

Mr Rose said that he named Mr Thompson as the victim and gave the address.

Mr Rose continued: "He told the operator he used a pair of scissors and wanted an ambulance to attend immediately, but that he did not know why he stabbed him. He said he kept hearing voices in his head."

"Two police officers arrived and the defendant opened the front door. They were shown to a small bed. Barry Thompson was lying on the bed. They could see blood on the bed covers."

"Payne was saying 'I stabbed him, I stabbed him' and he was then seen drinking from a can of lager. Police found an injury to the side of Mr Thompson's chest and to his thigh."

"When he was asked where the scissors were, Payne said on the bedside cabinet. Mr Thompson was airlifted to the Royal London Hospital, Whitechapel."

Mr Rose said fluid was discovered in Mr Thompson's heart. He had received a five millimetre stab wound which was plainly a life-threatening injury although the thigh injury was described as "not significant".

Mr Rose added: "Happily, Mr Thompson made a good recovery and was discharged from hospital on June 17."

The hearing continues.

Water supplier lifts hosepipe restriction on gardening firms

GARDENING businesses have been granted a temporary exemption from the current hosepipe ban following significant rainfall in the area.

Water supplier Veolia said a combination of exceptionally wet weather over the past few weeks coupled with a reduced demand had resulted in the first 'positive' recharge.

As a result businesses whose income is solely dependant on gardening have been excluded from the ban for 28 days on condition they only use the minimum amount of water necessary to maintain their services.

"We are keen to help businesses where we can," said the company's water resources manager Mike Pocock. "However, we will not be relaxing the temporary use ban further as we need to conserve our supply of water to prepare for the possibility of a third dry autumn and winter."

The Environment Agency declared over half of England to be in a state of drought at the beginning of April following two successive autumn and winters with below the average rainfall.

Watch out, here come the girls!

Report by VICKY LANE, photos by VIKKI LINCSE

THE green surroundings of Harlow Town Park were transformed into a sea of pink on Sunday when more than 2,000 women dressed in their brightest accessories to take part in this year's Star-backed Race for Life.

The dress code for the annual Cancer Research UK fundraiser was feather boas, pyjamas, all-in-one suits, bunny ears and fairy wings as toddlers, teenagers, twentysomethings, mums, grans, aunties and friends united to support the charity's fight against cancer.

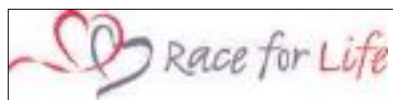

Women of all ages, sizes, shapes and abilities walked, jogged or ran either a 5k or 10k course around Harlow, with crowds in their hundreds cheering them on and making their own donations to the cause.

First to finish the 10k course was Kelly Rowland, while Catherine Perry was first home in the 5k event.

Event manager Claire Marmion said the atmosphere on the day had been incredible.

"Race for Life in Harlow is a fantastic event and we are so very grateful to everyone who took part or supported our participants, as well as the wonderful volunteers who helped make the event happen," she said.

"Now the big day is over we are asking our supporters to take one last step by returning the money they've raised so it can go into vital research to help more men, women and children survive cancer.

"Cancer Research UK doesn't receive any Government funding for its groundbreaking work so the money people in Harlow raise through Race for Life is crucial because it means we can go on supporting the pioneering work of doctors, nurses and scientists who are fighting cancer on all fronts.

"Many people don't realise that their entry fee only covers the cost of the event. It's the sponsorship money that really makes a difference."

Organisers hope Sunday's race will raise more than £190,000.

"Despite improvements in treatment we still have a long way to go," said Claire. "One in four people in the UK will die from cancer. With the help of people in Harlow we want to change that."

Sponsorship money can be returned online at www.raceforlife.org, by calling 0871 641 1111 or by sending a cheque payable to 'Cancer Research UK' to Race for Life, PO Box 442, Northampton, NN3 6UU.

A step in the right direction

By Star reporter VICKY LANE

IT started with a sore throat. Jack had been unable to eat as a result but he was a student living a typical student life. We were sympathetic but not overly concerned.

After a few days Jack went to the doctors and they discovered the tumour. He was diagnosed with cancer of the esophagus and at 21 years of age was given a year to live.

Standing at the start line next to 2,000 other women taking part in the Harlow Race for Life on Sunday, I knew they too would be thinking of their own tragic story linking them to cancer.

Some would reflect on that moment their loved one broke the bad news. Others would remember the heartbreaking tale about a distant friend. And some would think back to the terrifying moment they were told they had cancer.

That's the problem with cancer. It doesn't typecast its victims and often strikes when you least expect it. Jack had been a healthy guy living as I and all our friends did, yet for some reason he was singled out.

It was around the 5k mark when I started to feel the strain in my legs. The red faces around me indicated I wasn't the only one finding the hilly course demanding, yet the equally determined looks confirmed there was no intention of giving up - not on something that was still in our control.

As anyone who has ever had a loved one die from cancer knows, the hardest thing is being so powerless. Endless Google searches for miracle treatments prove fruitless and prayers remain unanswered.

It was a year to the day he was diagnosed that Jack passed away, surrounded by an incredible support group of family and friends. He lived his every last minute with good humour and couldn't have put on a braver, more dignified fight.

Yet the battle should never have been lost and that is why I take part in the Race for Life each year.

Like everyone who crosses that finish line, I know I am helping to fund the research that hopefully will make such losses a thing of the past.

But I also use the occasion to reflect on happy memories of my friend and celebrate others who have survived the disease. I know that every painful step is one in the right direction.

It takes time to evaluate and prioritise requests for action

SIR, May 1 respond to the letter from Debbie Bartram ("Conservatives are wrong to blame apathy for poll defeat", May 17) in which she alleges Conservative councillors did not respond to her requests for measures additional to the existing signs to deter speeding drivers on Commons Road where children cross to and from Latton Green School.

In fact councillors of all parties responded in 2010 through the all-party Highways Localism Panel, of which I was chairman. This was set up for Harlow Council to advise Essex County Council – the highways authority – of our priorities. Requests come through councillors or direct from local groups.

Cllr Strachan was then the Liberal Democrat councillor on the panel and also a Staple Tye ward councillor, so he brought this matter forward. I was aware he was in touch with Ms Bartram and the school.

County traffic engineers considered three solutions: a zebra crossing which could not fit the road layout because of nearby junctions, a mini roundabout at Tysea Road which would need expensive engineering and a vehicle activated sign (VAS) flashing the 30mph limit. The sign was installed at a cost of £12,000 from the panel's £129,000 budget.

We also took into account that speed cushions are to be installed on Commons Road as part of the nearby Clifton Hatch regeneration.

Further representations were received from the school and Cllr Strachan suggested the junction with Tysea Road could be raised to slow traffic. The county council has said it will consider this once a full evaluation of the effectiveness of the VAS has been made.

Ms Bartram may feel frustrated by the time it takes to translate such wishes into results but dozens of requests from across the town, not all of them practical, have to be carefully evaluated and prioritised otherwise we could spend our small budget 10 times over.

We can't just throw ideas and taxpayers' money at problems hoping something might work.

Civic Centre, Harlow

More 'successes' of our Tory-run council

SIR, In his letter claiming amazing success of the Conservative regime during the past few years ("Tories' record makes a mockery of mess jibe", May 17) Cllr Tony Hall said: "I could go on..."

We'll let's go on with a few more points of this magnificent success story:

- The council closing the Mark Hall museum.
- The doubtful arrangements for the future of Pets' Corner, the Playhouse and Parndon Wood Nature Reserve which at best gives them three more years and at worst one year to remain in being.
- The 75 per cent cut in funding of the Welfare Right and Advice Centre.
- Record increases in rent levels for Harlow tenants and record levels of housing debt (over £200m when none existed before the Tories took over control).
- Charging for parking at the shopping areas of The Stow, Old Harlow and Bush Fair.
- The closing of the public toilet amenities in the shopping areas and the Town Park.

● The worst appearance of the town's open spaces since the days of Harlow Development Corporation, an achievement in itself.

● Record levels of payments for councillors, with the council leader alone taking some £16,000 of public money. I remember the times when being a councillor was a voluntary job.

Like Cllr Hall, I could go on but I will leave that task to other readers.

Games stadium trip was a big letdown

SIR, As a disabled person, I am writing as a pre-warning to any other disabled people, the elderly and families planning to attend events at the Olympic Stadium.

On Saturday, May 5 I had booked tickets to go to '2012 Hours To Go: An Evening of Athletics and Entertainment' at the stadium. I made sure all disabled facilities were running and was looking forward to it.

My son and I got to Stratford Westfield by train and then it began! The station was heaving and the small elevators were packed so we had to queue.

We came out of Westfield which was bursting at the seams but we could find nowhere to eat or drink (there was a two-hour wait) and no seating anywhere.

We started to head to the stadium but could find no transport to the entrance. With help from my son we made it to entrance and through security where the buggies for disabled were, only to be told we could not use a buggy because there were too many people around.

I tried to walk it but failed. It was a total waste of money and effort and a big letdown. There was no-one to help, just people waving foam hands.

I am a supporter of the Olympics but I think we are going to be in trouble come the Games. The whole thing is too small and, at the moment, disorganised.

My warning is be prepared, take food and drink and remember it is a long walk so leave plenty of time. I set off from Westfield at 4.40pm and got back to Stratford station at 7.45pm. The show started at 7.30pm.

Stop selling off all our public services

SIR, Another piece of the country's family silver is to be sold off (given away?). This time it's the Royal Mail.

Were you consulted? Me neither, any more than when they took our railways, gas, electricity, water and telephones. All our now in the hands of foreign companies.

The service from them plummets as the charges and profits rocket, with most of the profits going abroad.

What absolute mugs we are to tolerate these scams. These services are public services and should be retained and controlled by the public.

When are we going to have our 'Arab spring'?

Terry Slater

Thanks to everyone who helped

SIR, I would like to thank everybody who helped me on Saturday, May 12 when my mobility scooter overturned, trapping me beneath it on a cycle track near Shawbridge and Hollyfield.

Thankyou so much for all your kindness in lifting the scooter off me, mopping me up and waiting until I pulled myself together.

Jennifer Wright
Bishopsfield, Harlow

SIR, I would just like to thank all the people who came to my assistance when I collapsed outside Primark on Monday of last week.

As I don't know any of the very kind individuals, this is the only way I can express my thanks and gratitude to the people who called the ambulance and took care of me until they arrived.

I would also like to thank the paramedics who attended to me. They showed what our NHS is about, caring for the patient with empathy, support and humanity.

IT turns out that taking on the role of social secretary at the Key Glass Sports and Social Club could get rather messy at times

In fact, for Bert Morton it resulted in him receiving a cream pie in the face – much to the delight of all the children attending the club's Christmas party that year.

Bert got in touch with Nostalgia after reading our recent articles about the social club for workers at the Harlow firm.

"I'm not sure how exactly I got caught up in helping to provide the entertainment but it's definitely me standing there with pie in my face," said Bert, of Harefield.

"It was for one of the children's Christmas parties. I would guess the picture must have been taken some time in the 1950s. I don't recognise anyone else, though; I can't even remember who the other 'pie in the face' gentleman is I'm afraid."

According to Bert, members were able to use money originally raised to fund an extension for the club to pay for the Christmas parties after director Mr Nicholls stepped in to finance the necessary building works.

"We had raised quite a lot of money by that point so were able to put in all into social events like the Christmas parties," said Bert.

"We used to go and buy really quite decent toys for all the boys and girls from a toy warehouse in the city. Then we'd have a Father Christmas ready to hand them out on the day.

"It was worth all the effort as all the kids seemed to really enjoy the parties and would get all dressed up in their best party gear. It was a nice way to celebrate the festivities together."

● Have you spotted yourself in the children's Christmas party photo? Or do you have any memories or photographs of Harlow from the 1950s-1980s? Why not share them with our readers by writing to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow CM20 1JW or email them to vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

WERE you a pupil at Harlow Common CofE School in Church Road? If so, perhaps you can spot yourself in this photograph from May 1950?

Former pupil Arlene Jacobs, of Church Leys, brought in the photograph after finding it at home. However, she does not feature in the picture.

"My sister, Constance Tucker, is in the picture," she said. "I am two years older so I think I had left for secondary school by then."

Founded as a national school in 1835 and situated next to St Mary Magdalene Church, the school had a lengthy lifespan, closing 123 years later in 1958.

"It was a good school from what I remember," said Arlene. "Both my sister, myself and our older brother Bert went there as we lived in Potter Street at the time."

"I don't remember an awful lot other than my weekly violin lessons and winning an award one time for having the best work and attendance. I also vaguely recall the headmaster who I think was called Mr Crouch."

Help artists recreate the 1950s

Ktreasures from the early 1950s are being sought for a display in Harlow to celebrate the Queen's jubilee.

Artists of Gatehouse Arts, in West Gate, are creating a special 1950s instalment at their studio.

Working in collaboration with the YMCA charity shop, they will be inviting members of the public in on Tuesday, June 5 from 11am-4pm to try on outfits from the 1950s in a period setting for a professional photo shoot. The photos can then be downloaded and printed for a small fee.

"If any readers have anything from 1952 or earlier that would have been seen in a 1950s house then we would be really keen to borrow it for our display in the gallery," said resident artist and group spokesperson Claire Jones.

"There will also be bunting and cakes and all the usual jubilee bits so we just hope as many people as possible will come down and check it out."

For more information about the event or to help with suitable items, email gatehouse@mail.com or call 07530 048739.

1987 From the Star 25 years ago

Commuters will soon have a brighter start to their day after British Rail announced Harlow Town station is to have an £8,000 facelift. Refurbishment plans include marble-effect flooring in the booking hall, colourful tiled mosaics on the walls and two new telephone booths.

Harlow will become a safer place at night with the installation of extra street lighting. The move came after a survey in the town showed many people, particularly women and the elderly, felt vulnerable going out at night because of the lack of lighting

A reconstruction of medieval ways of life drew visitors to Harlow Museum on Sunday. They witnessed a skirmish by armour-clad warriors, tasted a medieval curry and tried their hand at medieval crafts.

Young Francesca Hayes, the two-year-old daughter of Harlow MP Jerry Hayes, is stepping into her father's footsteps after performing a baby kissing routine at the Princess Alexandra Hospital. The youngster had gone into A&E after hitting her head in a fall. However, her injuries were quickly forgotten when she proceeded to kiss every baby in her ward.

Gamers website in start-up mode

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

GAMERS are being encouraged to share their reviews, blogs, videos and own virtual creations on a new website aimed at helping people break into the industry.

Video Game Madness is the brainchild of Harlow entrepreneur and self-confessed game fanatic Nathan Lansdell, pictured right, who has set it up to provide a platform for reviewers and developers to present their work.

It is also intended as a forum for gamers to discuss the latest titles.

Nathan, who owns Sawbridgeworth-based company Computers Fixed 4 U, launched the site last week. He said he hoped as many people in the area as possible would start making online contributions

"Our hope is to become the number one site for gamers created by gamers," he said. "The main aim of the new website is to provide a free space for people to get their work published and show the world their creativity whether that is through writing a review, maintaining a blog or uploading video examples of their art and animation work. "Essentially we are providing a publishing platform which can be referred to on CVs or when going for a job. The idea is that other gamers would then also add their comments to the work and a specialised forum will develop. "We are also undergoing talks with a few influential gaming companies to encourage relevant advertising on the site and to develop a relationship whereby they would use the site as a database to find suitable candidates for any upcoming roles they may have in their organisations."

Anyone can apply for a free reviewer's account which allows users to create a mini bio that would accompany all the work they publish. All pieces uploaded will remain archived on the website with only the submitter given access to edit, while visitors will be permitted to leave monitored comments.

"We are in the very early stages at the moment but are feeling very positive about the website," he said. "It is all about getting the word out there and getting the clicks and contributions to make it appealing to market leaders.

"We are already in discussions about video game testing roles and will be keeping everyone up-to-date with the latest gaming news."

The website address is www.videogamemadness.co.uk. For more information, email info@videogamemadness.co.uk or call 07729 645403.

Development firm wins award for conversion of tower block

THE firm behind the residential redevelopment of Harlow's tallest building has been given an award for its work regenerating the town centre.

Luminus, which completed the conversion of derelict Joseph Rank House into apartments last year, picked up the coveted Best Regeneration Scheme title for the project at the 2012 Housing Excellence Awards.

The company purchased the empty 12-storey office block in 2005, completing its transformation into a block of 132 flats last year.

Luminus Group chief executive Chan Abraham said: "We are delighted to achieve the Housing Excellence award for our regeneration of Joseph Rank House. The building has been revived and is now a modern and valuable new asset to Harlow residents, meeting a wide range of individual requirements.

"Joseph Rank House's 39 social rental apartments, 13 affordable homes and 80 apartments have helped contribute significantly towards satisfying Harlow's housing demand with carefully designed, sustainable and energy efficient homes."

Full house as last few stands for business exhibition are snapped up

HARLOW is the place to do business. That's the message from the organisers of the Harlow Business Exhibition as they put the finishing touches to this year's showcase event

With all 100 stands now sold and a fully packed schedule organised for the day, including seminars by local experts and a range of entertainment, the 2012 exhibition is expected to be the biggest and best yet.

"In the current climate we all recognise it is hard for all businesses," said NatWest business manager Khaled Khan. "If the exhibition can help some companies improve and grow, we will be pleased."

The Star-backed exhibition takes place on Tuesday, June 12 at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych from 10am to 4pm. It is a chance for everyone involved in business in the town to network, seek corporate advice and publicise their own services.

Sue Sowerby of The Sowerby Group, which is managing the event, added: "We are delighted at the progress that has been made in putting this event together.

"All the stands are now sold and we are looking forward to welcoming as many people as possible to the event."

Join in the fun as a Midnight Walk marshal

MORE than 900 people have now signed up for next month's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk around Harlow.

But with so many people taking part, an army of volunteers are needed to ensure the event runs smoothly.

So the message from organisers this week is that you don't need to take part in the walk to show your support for St Clare.

Volunteers are needed to marshal the route and give walkers plenty of encouragement as they make their way round the 10km course.

Tony Shattock, who has been a hospice volunteer for five years, has acted as a Midnight Walk marshal every year since it was first held back in 2008.

"I really enjoy it and get a lot of job satisfaction working for St Clare Hospice," he said. "The Midnight Walk is a favourite of mine."

"It's a great atmosphere, lots of fun and a big fundraising event to generate much-needed funds which are needed to run the hospice."

Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare, said: "We are so grateful to all the walkers who take part and raise the funds for the hospice but the event really couldn't go ahead without the support of the 100-strong team of volunteers who help us on the night."

"Our marshals always come back to us after the walk is finished and say what fun they had spotting the fancy dress outfits and getting high-fives off the walkers."

"So if walking 10 kilometres doesn't appeal to you but you have a few hours to spare and want to support the hospice then please get in touch."

The Midnight Walk takes place on Saturday, June 16, starting from the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm.

Volunteers and marshals are needed from 9.30pm until 1am the following morning.

Anyone wanting to volunteer as a marshal or to find out more about what is involved in helping out at Harlow's biggest night-time

VITAL ROLE: A team from Epping Forest Rotary Club were among the volunteers who helped out at last year's Midnight Walk

Three weeks to go

HUNDREDS of people have already signed up to take part in next month's Midnight Walk - but there's still time for YOU to join them.

Registration costs £15 per person and you can register online at www.stclarehospice.org.uk/midnight.

However, if you would prefer to be sent a registration form, call the fundraising team on (01279) 773750 or email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk.

fundraising event should ring (01279) 773758 or email fund@stclarehospice.org.uk

Meanwhile, registration is still open for people who want to take part... but time is running out. Entry closes in just two weeks (Friday, June 8) when it is hoped 1,300 will have signed up.

Registration costs £15 per person and all walkers will receive a goody bag, T-shirt and medal.

Before the walkers set off there will be on-stage music and games from Heart FM, a pre-walk warm-up to get you in the mood, face painters and the chance to buy a pair of eye-catching flashing bunny ears and fairy wings.

MP finds time to help hospice

HOSPICE fundraisers have been given a timely boost by Harlow MP Robert Halfon who has donated an exclusive House of Commons wristwatch.

Mr Halfon presented the watch when he visited the St Clare Hospice charity shop at the St James Centre off Edinburgh Way, Harlow, to support a nationwide campaign to encourage more people to donate directly to charity shops.

"I was delighted to visit the shop and present the charity with the watch," he said. "I hope it will raise a significant sum to help the hospice continue to provide its much-valued services both at the hospice in Hastingwood and also in the community."

The hospice is now considering the best way of raising the most money from Mr Halfon's gift. Louise Hamilton, the hospice's retail sales manager, said: "As a local charity providing hospice care to people in Harlow and surrounding areas, we rely on the generosity of the community to give us goods to sell."

"We are always grateful for all types of donated goods but at the moment we especially need good quality furniture to sell in our shops."

Drugs seized in police raids on Berecroft homes

DRUGS with a street value in excess of £1,000 were seized when police raided two homes in Harlow.

Officers were issued with warrants to search two properties at Berecroft last Wednesday afternoon. The drugs were found in one of the addresses.

They also searched the surrounding area following concerns from the public that drugs paraphernalia and needles were being discarded in local play areas.

No arrests had been made as the Star went to press yesterday (Wednesday).

PC Tim Knights said: "We executed the warrants thanks to community and partnership intelligence at various meetings over the past few months."

"There were concerns of drug dealing going on and numerous needles and drug paraphernalia being left in areas where children play. The officers made searches of certain locations on the day and cleared any drug related items."

PC Knights said anyone concerned that homes in their area were being used to cultivate or sell drugs should contact police. "We will continue to go through the door of anyone we suspect to be involved in drugs in Harlow," he added.

WIN Tickets to Makin' Steps jubilee spectacular

THE Makin' Steps Performing Arts School will be presenting a show featuring music and dance throughout the decades to celebrate the Queen's diamond jubilee. Performances will take place at Harlow Leisurezone from June 7-9 and this week we are giving you the chance to win one of four family tickets.

Entitled '5212', it features popular music from 1952 to 2012 played by a professional seven-piece live band.

With more than 150 singers and dancers performing on a purpose-built stage, accompanied by a spectacular array of special effects, it's sure to be a night to remember!

The show has been put together by a team of professionals who have worked all over the world with artists such as Kylie Minogue, Robbie Williams, Boyzone, Cliff Richard, Geri Halliwell and many more.

With everything from the rock 'n' roll of the 1950s right up to the current street dance styles of today, the show is sure to have something to please the whole family.

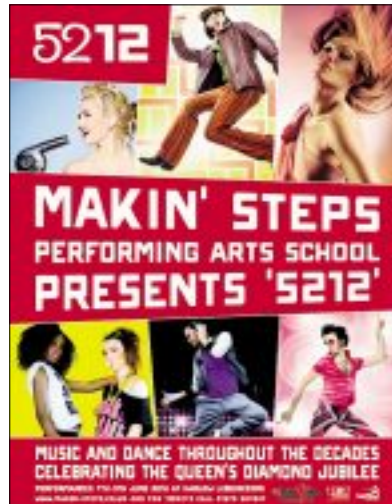

For the chance to win a family ticket to the 7.30pm performance on Thursday, June 7, simply answer the question on the competition coupon and return it to Makin' Steps Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge, CB24 6HF by Wednesday, May 30.

Alternatively you can enter via our dedicated competition link at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter 'Star Makin' Steps' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

What you can do when the bailiffs come calling

DEALING with bailiffs can be a distressing experience. The rules about bailiffs are complicated and vary depending on the type of bailiff. This article provides some basic information.

Courts and public authorities should only use bailiffs as a last resort after considering less intrusive ways of getting you to pay what you owe. These include benefit deductions, attachment of earnings, and voluntary payment arrangements.

Bailiffs are only instructed if you fail to repay your creditors after your case has been to court. They will threaten to take your possessions to persuade you to pay the debt, or take and sell things you own to repay your debt.

An appointed bailiff can visit at any reasonable time but you don't have to grant access.

Most bailiffs cannot use force or damage to enter your property but are allowed access through open windows or unlocked doors. However, bailiffs are allowed to force entry to collect unpaid criminal fines, income tax or VAT.

After a bailiff has gained access they can re-enter without permission - using force if needed - with respect to the same debt.

When seizing goods, the

Information from Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice

Contact the service on (01279) 446622 or by calling in at the Advice Centre, 2 East Gate, The High, between 10am and 1.30pm on weekdays. Out-of-hours appointments and home visits are available if necessary.

bailiff must leave the premises safe. In your home the bailiff has the right of access to all rooms. They cannot seize items belonging to anyone other than the person on the distress warrant, but jointly owned goods may be included.

For most debts, bailiffs cannot remove anything needed for basic domestic living including lighting, clothing, bedding and furniture or items on hire purchase or rented. Nor can they take anything required for use in employment or business, although a bailiff collecting council tax, VAT and tax arrears may be able to.

The bailiff may remove items immediately but more commonly will make a walking possession agreement, whereby seized goods legally belong to the bailiff and can be removed at any time. As long as repayments are made they will allow the goods to remain in the home.

Seized goods are sold at auction. The bailiff is legally bound to get a fair price, but the resale price of secondhand goods are usually a fraction of the purchase price.

Debt collectors are not the same as bailiffs and cannot take any direct action against you, apart from asking you to pay.

If you believe a debt collector is falsely acting as a bailiff, contact the trading standards department. If you are being physically threatened, contact the police.

Car that drives itself

IT may sound like something from a science fiction movie, but driverless cars could soon be seen cruising around the American state of Nevada after officials there allowed it to be used with a special licence.

A specially-adapted Toyota Prius fitted with video cameras, radar sensors and lasers to guide it around traffic safely has been unveiled by internet giant Google.

And the high-tech vehicle could soon be seen cruising around the American state of Nevada after officials there allowed it to be used with a special licence.

The car has also been given a unique red licence plate to make it stand out from other vehicles.

Despite being controlled by a computer, the car has to be carrying two people for the licence to be legal.

Bruce Breslow, the Department of Motor Vehicles director who approved the car for use on the state's roads, said he was confident the vehicle was safe.

"I sat in the back seat first, looking at the laptop that shows what the vehicle is seeing," he told reporters. "My apprehension disappeared after about five seconds."

"Once I felt confident that the car could see better than I could, they allowed me to get behind the wheel."

A prototype car, which has been tested in California, has already travelled more than 140,000 miles without any mishaps, apart from when another car bumping into it at a set of traffic lights.

Other car companies are now working to get self-driving vehicles onto the road, meaning we could see the high-tech vehicles rolled out on UK roads in the near future.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
Save your pennies and spend with caution. Visits and visitors throng with fun and a touch of nostalgia. Promote practical ideas and efforts, as this is a time when your confidence will stand you in good stead and boost your actions. Be adventurous by all means, but trim your feisty sails. Meanwhile, deeper creative energies are stirring within you. Call for more news...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You are unlikely to be faced with money struggles, however, be warned against ill-judged optimism which could cause you to overreach yourself. Be warned too, that social outings could threaten your resources. Happily, you will be much on the move in a variety of directions, and it will be a progressive phase for your ideas and skills. Call for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Maintain a critical attitude and be guarded against sweet talk and flattery. Another risk is that you may be taken in by people who express enticing or unusual views. Keep your own counsel, and if necessary, seek a second opinion. Positively, the New Moon resides in your own sign - excellent for classy projects and other plans. Be flexible. Call for more advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Tetchy attitudes could leave you wondering if you said something out of place. Friendly connections and a touch of entertainment will help you to keep things in proportion. The planets herald an eventful phase for work and personal passions. You seldom take a back seat or watch the world go by, and you're not afraid to experiment and explore. Call for more...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Something confidential is likely to need careful attention. Be ready to listen and weigh up any extremes that may affect you or someone you know. Snags and hiccups abound, so try to arrange things so that you can relax and unwind. Network your wishes and be ready for an intriguing moment. All in all, everything appears to be moving forward. Call for more news...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
By dealing with complications, you can avoid hassles later as well as saving effort or worry. You can't afford to waste time. The Gemini New Moon will enhance your wit and communication gifts, which will be needed to deal with end of week criticism. Pursue social and community affairs as anything of a creative issue will gather momentum. Call for more...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
You have heard it all before, don't let go of past advice. It remains as important now as yesterday, more so as obstacles seem to reappear without warning. Watch for deception and misleading words. Continue to make headway by making single minded decisions. You have the power to have a positive effect on the world and improve your standing. Call for more...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 23
You either drive yourself too hard or demand too much from others. Make up your mind about what direction to take, and above all, be fair. If other people get the impression that you are being selfish, remember that there are times when focus on your personal needs is vital. Any conflict of loyalties will demand a sacrifice. Call me now for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
The cosmic balance is particularly favourable for those feeling adventurous. It throws a positive spotlight on anything sporting or embracing an alternative activity. This week is likely to provide elements towards changes of routine in the very near future. Keep affairs of the heart and mind in calm waters, especially if you want things to evolve. Call for more...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Long distance affairs, including business and creative desires, are wonderfully aspected under a powerful starry bough. It will be much easier to clear away or reach agreement with opposing minds. Don't attempt to interfere, for events behind the scenes will eventually ensure clearer developments. The secret is to adopt a more subtle approach. Call for more...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
The New Moon in fellow air sign Gemini, will brighten up personal ties and other one-to-one situations. Avoid word-games, otherwise you might not be the winner. The signs look bright, despite an unexpected attitude problem. You will be well-starred for new projects and social contacts. Any blast from the past needs wary handling. Call me for your love scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
Put aside your worries and aggravations. Treat yourself by planning and doing small trips, outings and memorable visits. Let the New Moon in lively Gemini take the edge off any particular concern, because it's prime time to entertain, organise a party, or more practically, go ahead with home refurbishments. A friendly link may take on a new energy. Call for more...

Festival to resurrect great gigs in the park

By CHRIS MOSS

If you thought the days of free open-air concerts in Harlow Town Park were just a distant memory, think again.

Back in the 1970s and '80s the town rocked out to the sounds of Fairport Convention, 10cc, The Pogues and even Thin Lizzy, but it's been many years since the bandstand hosted its last major concert.

But festival fever is set to return to the park this summer thanks to the determination of local music aficionado Jamie Pring, pictured right, with the second instalment of his Linkfest weekend – and everyone's invited.

Held over the August bank holiday weekend, the free festival is being put on with support from Fourth Avenue venue The Square and will feature an appetising line-up of top local bands and acclaimed tribute acts, with more big names set to be confirmed over the coming weeks.

It will be the first major event staged in the Town Park since the Great Parndon Community Association took over responsibility for Harlow Council's events service in April – and both Jamie and the GPCA are confident it will prove to be a big success.

"It's something that I've been trying to sort out for a long time, but it looks as though it's all finally coming together," said Jamie. "The first time we did Linkfest we put it on near the GPCA in Abercrombie Way and although it was a ticket-only event it did really well.

"But not only will this year's event be free, it's being held in a central, easily accessible location so I'm hoping even more people will turn up."

As well as finalising the bill, Jamie is currently sorting out additional sponsorship for the event which will feature a fully-licensed bar provided by the GPCA and a range of stalls selling everything from band merchandise to freshly-prepared curries.

He added: "Hopefully we can bring back the spirit of those sorely missed rock concerts of the '70s and '80s. If this year's event goes smoothly there's no reason why we can't make it a regular fixture in the town's calendar."

For more information on the festival, log on to the Linkfest In The Park event page on Facebook or email Jamie at linkfest2012@yahoo.co.uk.

School's out for the girls of St Swithuns

A MUSICAL loosely based on the popular St Trinians stories is set to entertain audiences at the Playhouse later this month.

The Last Daze of St Swithuns is the latest offering from Rare Productions, the UK's largest youth musical theatre production company.

Following a fracas in the local nightclub, the unruly girls of St Swithuns have been sent by the judge to undergo a period of recuperation at an unoccupied country mansion.

Unknown to the girls, a gang of rather incompetent bank robbers have hidden the proceeds of their latest robbery in the cellars of the very same mansion. As the crooks attempt to recover their loot, the girls do everything in their power to thwart them.

As well as exciting dance routines and lots of comedy, the show also features many well-known songs from the 1950s and '60s including Johnny B Goode, At The Hop, Be My Baby, Great Balls of Fire and Shake A Tail Feather.

The show runs from May 31 to June 2. Tickets priced at £13 and £11 are available now from the box office on (01279) 431945 or at www.playhouseharlow.com.

● Rare Productions will be holding open auditions for performers aged 8-18 who want to appear in its forthcoming production of Annie at the Playhouse.

The auditions take place at the theatre on June 10 from 2-5pm and at Harlow College on June 13 from 4-7pm.

Spirits are high as Players entertain with Ayckbourn

THE Moot House Players are extraordinary. Year after year, season after season, show after show they present performances containing acting of a very high calibre and plays that make it worth coming out in the evening.

Jon McNamara's production of Alan Ayckbourn's Life and Beth ticked all these boxes.

The evening belonged to Jennifer Southwell, who gave a masterly performance as the recently widowed Beth. From the outset, she gained sympathy and how happy we were for her when she finally got back her life – and her beloved cat.

Playing opposite her in the most unforgettable scene in the play was Alan Hodgson, the local vicar who accidentally summons up the ghost of her late husband. Alan trod the fine line between farce and pathos brilliantly with his bewilderment at the unexpected power of prayer and his feeling of being totally out of his depth when asked to perform an exorcism.

Beth is determined to make the most of widowhood, despite the well-meaning attentions of her sister-in-law Connie (Angela Hodgson), son Martin (Dan Powell) and his partner Ella (Stacey Ward). All three gave strong, believable interpretations and Stacey deserves mention for building her character out of a tiny part.

review

Life and Beth
Moot House Players
Moot Hall, The Stow

The ghost of Gordon – Beth's husband – was played by Robbie Chittick in his native Scots brogue which rather made nonsense of his being the brother of the very English Connie's brother. However, his 'invisible' entrances were immaculate and there was real tension in the scene with Beth in which it became obvious that their marriage had not been the idyll it had seemed to outsiders.

Congratulations must also go to the stage management of this play, which contributed in a very big way to the overall performance.

The Players dedicated the performance to the memory of former stage manager Phil Lloyd. If Phil had 'leave of absence' to return and see the production, he is certain to have enjoyed every effect, especially the trail of destruction caused by the over-excited (and invisible) cat returning in the finale.

Another thoroughly enjoyable evening at Moot Hall.

Will's back to black for more alien encounters

MEN IN BLACK 3 (3D)
certificate PG, 1h45m

THIRD time's a charm for the sharp-suited Men In Black, who rediscover their swagger 10 years after the lacklustre second instalment.

Set largely in July 1969, MIB3 is a time-travelling caper which ties up loose threads in a neat bow, suggesting this could and perhaps should be the end of the Smith and Jones double-act.

It would be an entertaining swansong for a franchise which burst onto the big screen in 1997 and became one of the year's biggest hits behind Titanic and The Lost World: Jurassic Park.

Director Barry Sonnenfeld imbues each breathlessly orchestrated scene with impish humour, from a protracted kiss that churns stomachs to a slime-slathered skirmish with a giant fish.

The film opens in the Lunar Max high security prison where a Boglodite assassin called Boris The Animal (Jemaine Clement) engineers a daring escape with help from his sexy girlfriend (Nicole Scherzinger). The snarling supervillain plans to travel back in time and kill the man who put him behind bars and shot off his left arm: Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones).

The ripple effect causes Agent K to disappear from the future, heralding a full-scale Boglodite invasion of Earth.

Having ascertained the past has been altered, Agent J (Will Smith) also travels back to 1969 where he meets the young Agent K (Josh Brolin), who claims to be 29 years old.

With assistance from the young Agent O (Alice Eve) and an otherworldly soothsayer called Griffin (Michael Stuhlbarg), J races against the clock to save his best friend from annihilation.

Men In Black 3 initially treats us to Smith and Jones in full flow. Once the plot steps back in time, Brolin broadly captures the deadpan delivery and mannerisms of Jones's elder incarnation.

The script largely ignores races issues of the era to concentrate on slam-bang thrills. Stuhlbarg threatens to upstage everyone in a quixotic supporting role and Thompson lends gravitas but invariably Smith's wise-cracking and the imaginative production design are the constant sources of wonder.

A couple of the showpiece sequences merit the eye-popping 3D format including a final showdown that inserts J and K into an iconic moment in history.

As usual, visual gags include the flickering video wall at MIB headquarters which monitors alien activity on Earth and outs Lady Gaga, Justin Bieber and Tim Burton as extra-terrestrial visitors.

>>still on screen

DARK SHADOWS In the mid-18th century, Barnabas Collins (Johnny Depp) spurns the advances of servant Angelique (Eva Green) and falls in love with Josette DuPres (Bella Heathcote). In revenge, Angelique kills Josette and transforms Barnabas into a hideous vampire and buries him alive. Almost 200 years later, construction workers unearth his cast-iron coffin and the fanged fiend is unleashed in swinging 1972 Maine. While Barnabas acclimatises to the groovy customs of the era, he seeks sanctuary at his ancestral home with the latest branch of the family tree headed by Elizabeth (Michelle Pfeiffer). To restore the family's fortunes, Barnabas must risk the wrath of Angelique once again.

THE DICTATOR Sacha Baron Cohen plays Admiral General Aladeen, tyrannical ruler of the African state of Wadiya. During a visit to America to address the United Nations about his nuclear arsenal, Aladeen is usurped by his duplicitous brother Tamir (Sir Ben Kingsley) and cast adrift on the streets. Zoey (Anna Faris), the tomboyish manager of a vegan feminist non-profit co-operative, takes pity on Aladeen who she accepts as an immigrant called Allison Burgers, but sparks of romance are continually extinguished by Aladeen's bigotry. Eventually, Zoey discovers that Aladeen is wanted for war crimes and is horrified by the truth.

AMERICAN PIE: THE REUNION Jim Levenstein (Jason Biggs) and his wife Michelle (Alyson Hannigan) head back to East Great Falls to attend their 13-year high school reunion in the company of Oz (Chris Klein), who is now a minor television star, house husband Kevin (Thomas Ian Nicholas) and eternal wanderer Finch (Eddie Kaye Thomas). Meanwhile, Stifler (Seann William Scott) is up to his puerile tricks. The arrival of Heather (Mena Suvari) and her cardiologist beau (Jay Harrington) piques Oz's jealousy and Kevin is nervous to see old flame Vicky (Tara Reid) again. Elsewhere, Finch is drawn to Michelle's band camp friend Selena (Dania Ramirez).

WHAT TO EXPECT WHEN YOU'RE EXPECTING
certificate 12A, 1h49m

INSPIRED by Heidi Murkoff's best-selling book, What To Expect When You're Expecting is a romantic comedy about five couples who are feeling the strain of impending parenthood. Among the terrified throng are keep fit guru Jules (Cameron Diaz) and her dancer beau Evan (Matthew Morrison), whose tempestuous romance was sparked on a televised celebrity contest; cash-strapped photographer Holly (Jennifer Lopez) and her baby-shy husband Alex (Rodrigo Santoro), who are waiting for news about their adoption application; fast food vendor Rosie (Anna Kendrick) and old flame Marco (Chace Crawford), whose one carefree night of lust has dramatic consequences; baby shop owner Wendy (Elizabeth Banks) and her insecure husband Gary (Ben Falcone), who are delighted by the prospect of finally starting a brood; and his sportsman father Ramsey (Dennis Quaid) and trophy wife Skyler (Brooklyn Decker), who miraculously announce they are both having twins at exactly the same time.

Think carefully before securing other debts against your home. Your home may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage.

We do not charge fees for arranging your mortgage as we are paid by the lender. However, if you prefer, you can pay us a broker fee of up to 1.5% of the mortgage amount and receive the lender's fee yourself.

MORTGAGE MARKET UPDATE

With further worries about the viability of Greece to remain in the eurozone and the exposure of many banks debts owed by Greece, availability of funding is once again under pressure. We have seen several lenders withdraw products and replace them with new products at higher interest rates.

This is especially the case at the 90% loan to value level, ie the percentage you want to borrow against the house value, rates are now around 6%.

On Tuesday we heard from the IMF regarding the lack of growth in our economy, one of their recommendations being the Bank of England lowers the Base Rate further.

If you have a tracker mortgage this would mean a reduction in your mortgage payments each month.

More important than ever is the need to get professional independent advice

Viewing Time

Most property vendors will recognise the tremendous importance of ensuring that as many prospective buyers as possible see their property. After all, more viewings means more buyer competition thereby maximising your chances of securing the highest price the market will pay.

However, whilst one always has to be fair, there is a lot to be said for strategic viewing! Good agents will advise their clients to be selective when arranging a time for prospective purchasers to view their home. After all, only the person who has lived in the property knows when the best times of day are. Here are a few tips:

Is your property on a school route? If so, during term time, it might be best to avoid the morning and afternoon drop-off and pick up times. If you are very close to a school, is it noisy during break-time?

Likewise are you near a pub, sports ground, or factory, which can have crowds of rowdy people spilling onto your street at certain times.

Consider which way your property faces. Bright accommodation and a sunny garden are great selling points, so choose times when the position of the sun is at its best. Perhaps a follow-up viewing is best organised for a different time of day to highlight a feature that might have been missed initially.

Nevertheless, do remember that agents and vendors alike have a duty of care not to misrepresent, so if there is an issue, such as predictable noise at certain times of day, then this should be disclosed. However, the importance of a good first impression cannot be overstressed, to the extent that many people will dismiss a minor inconvenience in light of having first fallen in love with their otherwise perfect home yours!

Mazda bring its '5' alive

By Iain Dooley

IT might be a cliché but it's true that you can't afford to stand still in the car business.

As fuel prices continue to rise and buyers seek more efficient modes of transport, the key to any future success will be to produce vehicles that offer meaningful savings. However, achieving this without impacting negatively on the ownership experience isn't easy.

Mazda hopes it has cracked it with the development of a suite of efficiency and performance improvements that it can apply to whole range of vehicles.

Dubbed 'Skyactiv' by the Japanese car maker, it hopes the various developments will help to enhance its future models in the eyes of buyers.

First up to get the treatment is the new mid-size SUV, the CX-5. Sitting below the long running CX-7, this new model is a five-seater with the option of front and four-wheel drive plus the choice of diesel and petrol engine and manual and auto transmissions.

Weight is a killer in the car business; not only can it impact negatively on crash performance and fuel economy but it also doesn't help when it comes to vehicle agility. High-rise SUVs often feel it the most, which is why Mazda has chosen a combination of stronger and lighter weight materials for the CX-5's construction. This hasn't come at the expense of safety, as the company is keen to stress that it's spent considerable time fine-tuning crash structures as part of its Skyactiv philosophy.

SUV agility is another area for improvement. The company wanted to ensure the CX-5 complimented and not blighted the reputation of the likes of the MX-5 roadster and 6 family car.

The good news is that the engineers have largely succeeded, with the CX-5 feeling uncharacteristically agile for an

SUV. Think of it more as a high-rise family hatch and you'll get the picture. Weighty controls should appeal to the keen drivers while ride comfort easily rivals that of a conventional car.

Despite the option of all-wheel drive, the CX-5 is no extreme mud-plugger but its behaviour should please those who tow.

A lot of the CX-5's on-road talent can be traced to its engines. This is another Skyactiv-themed element of the car, as the units offer low levels of consumption and emissions alongside above average levels of performance.

The line-up starts with a 163bhp petrol motor for those focused on two-wheel drive motoring. Diesel power is a strong favourite among 4x4 drivers for obvious reasons – plenty of torque and sensible economy. Mazda's take on diesel power for CX-5 is to offer two 2.2-litre units (148bhp and 172bhp).

Among the various engineering tweaks, it's chosen to fiddle with the compression ratios to maximize both economy and power, the end result being a very creditable 61.4mpg and 119g/km CO<sub>2</sub> for the low power motor in two-wheel drive guise and 54.3mpg and 136g/km CO<sub>2</sub> for the high power unit when chosen with all-wheel drive. Performance is also brisk, with a sub-nine second 0-62mph time for the 172bhp diesel and a 9.4 second time for the all-wheel drive 148bhp car.

In practical terms the CX-5 performs very well. Mazda's engineers have done a good job of balancing the need to reduce consumption and emissions with the desire to make the car engaging and interesting. That it rides well is a major plus and demonstrates that the firm's Skyactiv-themed technology bundle is more than just a promotional hook.

Staying with the practicalities of ownership, the CX-5's cabin is up to Mazda's usual high standards regarding fit and finish, while occupants won't be short of space, especially in the back.

Overall, the car's cabin is as well screwed together and as comfortable as many of its premium-priced rivals.

The CX-5 is also well equipped. Two core trim levels deliver a considerable amount of kit out of the box, with the base SE-L including a decent audio unit, MP3 player connections, Bluetooth, climate control, fully adjustable front seats, plenty of airbags and electronic stability controls. Sport adds bigger wheels, leather, reversing camera, upgraded audio unit and keyless entry.

Each trim level can be boosted by an integrated TomTom-branded sat-nav while selected models can also be specified with a optional safety pack comprising lane departure warning, auto-sensing headlight high beam control and a rear vehicle monitor.

Generous in many ways – equipment, performance, wallet-friendly economy – Mazda's CX-5 promises to put the company on the shopping lists of cost-conscious motorists seeking a good balance of low running costs and premium-level refinement.

With the promise of similar performance gains from other future models, Mazda's new-found engineering talent shouldn't be underestimated.

Scrap

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD means that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

GENERAL CATERING ASSISTANT

For 3 hours per day

Would you like to join our catering team at St Mary's Catholic School? Training will be given, so experience, though desirable, is not necessary. The contract is term-time only from 9.00am, plus 5 Insert days. Salary payable on Hay Scale HB (4-6; full time salary £12,145-£12,489 pa), giving a pro-rata starting salary of £4,506 pa including London Fringe Allowance and holiday pay. Start date as soon as possible. For further details please contact Mrs Ringer, Catering Manager.

St Mary's Catholic School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. A CRB disclosure is required for all successful applicants.

An application form and further details can be found at www.stmarys.net in the staff section. Only applications on the school application form can be considered. St Mary's is committed to the equality of opportunity for all applicants. Closing date: 1 June 2012.

WAREHOUSE OPERATIVE

Temporary - Harlow

Harlow is one of ten depots within our 3663 Wholesale Midlands region. The Warehouse team forms an essential part of the depot in delivering the right products to our customers on time.

As part of this team you will be responsible for goods in, replenishing stock, picking & assembling, checking and loading of orders against pick sheet requirements. You will be picking food products to targets and within food hygiene legislation to ensure our customers' orders are processed safely, accurately and in a timely manner.

Whilst no specific warehouse experience is required, you will be used to working to targets and you have an accurate and methodical approach to you work. You will be a good team player who supports our company values. Knowledge of Food Hygiene and experience in a similar role are desirable but not essential. FLT experience would be an advantage.

To apply, please forward your application and/or CV including the reference to: Michael Tansley Warehouse Manager, 3663, Greenway, Harlow Business Park, Harlow, Essex. CM19 5QB

Closing date: 29th May 2012

DRIVER

Temporary - Harlow

Harlow depot is one of the 10 Depots within the Wholesale Midlands Region's of 3663 delivering Multi Temperature products. The Transport team forms an essential part of the depot in delivering excellent customer service.

As part of this team you will be responsible for the delivery of customers' orders in a timely and professional manner and for delivering orders within Food Safety standards to the correct location as detailed on delivery notes and route ordering. Liaising with our customers to complete delivery documentation and to collect cash and ensure its security forms part of this role.

You will require a driving qualification of (HGV class C) which will be clean. Ideally, you will have experience of working in a similar role including liaising with customers. Strong customer facing skills and an excellent accident free driving record are required.

To apply, please forward your application and/or CV including the reference to: Lee Parker, Transport Manager, 3663, Greenway, Harlow Business Park, Harlow, Essex. CM19 5QB

Closing Date: Tuesday 29th May 2012

TEACHING ASSISTANT TO SUPPORT A STUDENT WITH COMPLEX NEUROLOGICAL DIFFICULTIES AND CEREBRAL PALSY

Salary : Local Government Scale :
Band 3 points 17-25
Range: £16,830 - £21,519 per annum (pro rata)
Hours: 27½ hours per week (term time only)

We wish to appoint an enthusiastic and energetic person to join a strong and successful Learning Support Department in this highly successful and oversubscribed 11-18 mixed comprehensive school that offers a friendly and caring environment.

The post will entail supporting a student with cerebral palsy which affects his mobility, speech and independence. Full training will be given to the successful applicant, this will include training in relation to the student's communication and cognitive needs. As this post is specifically linked to the funding we have to issue a fixed term contract until July 2015 and the post is subject to the student continuing at Newport Free Grammar School or the funding ceasing.

Newport Free Grammar School is a high achieving and aspirational school which places a strong emphasis on student learning. Our 2009 Ofsted inspection described the school as having a "good curriculum with outstanding and highly distinctive features with an impressively rich and diverse extra-curricular programme". It also praised the 6th form with its, "outstanding curriculum and good levels of achievement". Last year the school achieved 78% A*-C at GCSE including Maths and English and we aim to keep improving.

The Governing Body is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.
An Enhanced CRB check will be carried out for the successful candidate.

An application form and further details are available from the Headteacher, Newport Free Grammar School, Newport, Saffron Walden, Essex CB11 3TR.

If you wonder how on earth to go about finding a trustworthy local tradesperson to tackle your repairs, don't worry, you're not alone. We've all heard the horror stories of the botched repair jobs or the extortionately expensive solution to a problem. There are even whole television programmes dedicated to providing us with horror stories of such events.

According to research, most British homeowners are at a loss when sourcing a local trusted tradesman. Very few of us are lucky enough to have contacts in every trade so where do you turn to when it comes to getting the right person for the job – and more often than not as quickly as possible? It's always a good idea to ask friends and family if they can recommend someone. This newspaper is also a mine of information when it comes to sourcing tradesmen too. Just take a look at the small ads.

Don't forget it's always a good idea to get three quotes for any job and ask for references. Get full details in writing of what is covered and what is not. Put details of the job down in writing - the more thoroughly, the better. There are some superb tradespeople out there and once you've found them it pays to hang on to them! Keep their names and don't forget to pass their names on to friends and family. Quite often, a good, reliable workman will know other people in related trades, so don't be afraid to ask your electrician if he can recommend a good plumber or your roofer if he knows a competent aerial installer. If you've been satisfied with one particular person, the chances are he or she will have worked alongside other people who work to a similar standard.

The closures are scheduled to commence within an 18 month period from the 4 June 2012 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and are required for the safety of the public and workforce while highway maintenance works are undertaken. Exact dates of the road closures will be notified via advanced warning signage on sites. Letters to residents and other affected or interested parties advising of the works/dates and other relevant information will also be sent out at least 2 weeks in advance.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 4 June 2012 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Saville, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford.

Notice of Making of an Order Highways Act 1980 – Section 119 Essex County Council Footpath 84 North Weald District of Epping Public Path Diversion Order 2012

The above Order made on 17th May, 2012 will divert Footpath 84 in the Parish of North Weald in the District of Epping, to a route slightly further to the east than the current line where it crosses the railway line and to reduce the width of the path to two metres to a line already being used by the public as shown on the Order Map contained in this Order.

A copy of the Order and Order Map have been placed in and may be seen free of charge at Epping District Council, Civic Offices, High Street, Epping and at the Chelmsford Public Library, Market Road, Chelmsford during normal working hours. Copies of the Order and Order map are available on request from the Chelmsford Library at a charge.

Any representation about or objection to the Order may be sent or delivered in writing to Laurence Page and addressed to the Definitive Map Team, Essex County Council, E3, County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1QH, no later than 21st June 2012 and should state the grounds on which it is made.

If no such representations or objections are duly made, or if any so made are withdrawn, Essex County Council may itself confirm the Order as an unopposed Order. If the Order is sent to the Secretary of State for the Environment for confirmation, any representations or objections which have not been withdrawn will be sent together with the Order. Any such representation or objections will be taken into account by the Council with the result that they may be made available to the public under the Local Government (Access to Information) Act 1985.

Paul Bird, Director of Highways & Transportation,
County Hall, Market Road, Chelmsford, Essex CM1 1QH

Dated: 24th May, 2012

Morley Grove Article 4 Direction

PUBLIC CONSULTATION - 21st May 2012 to 11th June 2012

Under Article 4(1) of The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (as amended), Harlow Council is proposing an Article 4 Direction which would affect house numbers 57 to 99 Morley Grove.

The Direction would remove permitted development rights, which allow dwelling houses to be used as houses in multiple occupation (HMOs) without first obtaining planning permission. It is intended that the Direction will come into force on 1st July 2013. From this date, property owners wishing to use their dwelling houses as HMOs would first have to apply for planning permission from Harlow Council. This application would not, however, be subject to a fee.

Harlow Council is carrying out a public consultation on the Direction between 9am on 21st May 2012 and 5pm on 11th June 2012. Any comments received during this consultation period will be considered before the Direction comes into force.

You may post your comments to: Morley Grove Article 4 Direction Consultation, Forward Planning, Harlow Council, The Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow, CM20 1WG; or you may email your comments to: morleygrovearticle4@harlow.gov.uk

You may view a copy of the proposed Direction, map and Information Sheet at:

- Harlow Central Library, The High, Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Harlow Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow between 9.00 am – 4.45 pm Monday to Friday; or
- Online at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/morleygrovearticle4>

Old Harlow Article 4 Direction Revision CONFIRMATION – 1 June 2012

The Council carried out a 6-week public consultation on this Article 4 Direction Revision, between 21 March and 2 May 2011. Residents were encouraged to comment on the matter and the Council examined all comments made before reaching a final decision. The majority of residents supported the Article 4 Direction Revision.

This Direction Revision is made under Article 4(1) of The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (as amended).

This Direction Revision affects:

- Bury Road – all houses except 85
- New Road – 1 to 33 (odds)
- High Street – 71 to 77 (odds)
- Old Road – 11 to 19 (odds)

This Direction Revision is a minor amendment to the existing Article 4 Direction, to remove permitted development rights for the installation, alteration or replacement of solar panels on roof slopes, which are visible from the highway. This Direction Revision comes into force on 1 June 2012.

This means you need to apply for planning permission if you want to:

- Change the front of a home, including extensions and the replacement of doors and windows.
- Change the roof slope which faces a road.
- Build a porch.
- Build or replace an area of paving in the front garden of a home.
- Carry out any work to a chimney.
- Build or knock down any wall, fence or gate in a front garden.
- Paint the walls of a home which faces the road.
- Put up or replace solar panels on a roof slope visible from the road.

It does not mean that homeowners cannot make any changes to their properties. It just means that they have to make a planning application to the Council, free of charge, before carrying out the above forms of development.

How to view the Revised Direction

For more information on the range of permitted development rights removed, and a boundary map to show the affected properties, a copy of the Old Harlow Article 4 Direction Revision Confirmation leaflet is available from:

- Harlow Central Library, The High, Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Old Harlow Library, High Street, Old Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Harlow Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow between 9.00 am – 4.45 pm Monday to Friday.

The leaflet and its associated documents can also be viewed online at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/conservation>

St John's Avenue Article 4 Direction CONFIRMATION – 1 June 2012

The Council carried out a 6-week public consultation on this Article 4 Direction, between 21 March and 2 May 2011. Residents were encouraged to comment on the matter and the Council examined all comments made before reaching a final decision. The majority of residents supported this Article 4 Direction.

This Direction is made under Article 4(1) of The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (as amended).

This Direction affects:

- St John's Avenue – 7 to 37 (odds) and 4 to 30 (evens)

This Direction removes certain householder permitted development rights, which are visible from the highway. This direction comes into force on 1 June 2012.

This means the owners of the above properties need to apply for planning permission if they want to:

- Change the front of a home, including extensions and the replacement of doors and windows.
- Change the roof slope which faces a road.
- Build a porch.
- Build or replace an area of paving in the front garden of a home.
- Carry out any work to a chimney.
- Build or knock down any wall, fence or gate in a front garden.
- Paint the walls of a home which faces the road.
- Put up or replace solar panels on a roof slope visible from the road.

It does not mean that homeowners cannot make any changes to their properties. It just means that they have to make a planning application to the Council, free of charge, before carrying out the above forms of development.

How to view the Direction

For more information on the range of permitted development rights removed, and a boundary map to show the affected properties, a copy of the St John's Avenue Article 4 Direction Confirmation leaflet is available from:

- Harlow Central Library, The High, Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Old Harlow Library, High Street, Old Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Harlow Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow between 9.00 am – 4.45 pm Monday to Friday.

The leaflet and its associated documents can also be viewed online at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/conservation>

Park Hill and Mulberry Terrace Article 4 Direction CONFIRMATION – 1 June 2012

The Council carried out a 6-week public consultation on this Article 4 Direction, between 21 March and 2 May 2011. Residents were encouraged to comment on the matter and the Council examined all comments made before reaching a final decision. The majority of residents supported this Article 4 Direction.

This Direction is made under Article 4(1) of The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995 (as amended).

This Direction affects:

- Park Hill – 6, 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16 (Oddfellow's Terrace)
- Mulberry Terrace – 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6
- Park Hill – 15 and 17

This Direction removes certain householder permitted development rights, which are visible from the highway. This direction comes into force on 1 June 2012.

This means you need to apply for planning permission if you want to:

- Change the front of a home, including extensions and the replacement of doors and windows.
- Change the roof slope which faces a road.
- Build a porch.
- Build or replace an area of paving in the front garden of a home.
- Carry out any work to a chimney.
- Build or knock down any wall, fence or gate in a front garden.
- Paint the walls of a home which faces the road.
- Put up or replace solar panels on a roof slope visible from the road.

It does not mean that homeowners cannot make any changes to their properties. It just means that they have to make a planning application to the Council, free of charge, before carrying out the above forms of development.

How to view the Direction

For more information on the range of permitted development rights removed, and a boundary map to show the affected properties, a copy of the Park Hill and Mulberry Terrace Article 4 Direction Confirmation leaflet is available from:

- Harlow Central Library, The High, Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Old Harlow Library, High Street, Old Harlow – during normal opening hours; or
- Harlow Civic Centre, The Water Gardens, Harlow between 9.00 am – 4.45 pm Monday to Friday.

The leaflet and its associated documents can also be viewed online at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/conservation>

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON: James Coldwell, above, and his father Rob, below (s)

It 'runs' in the family!

THE Coldwells kept it in the family as promoted Harlow's fourth team were inspired to victory by a dynamic father-and-son combination.

Harlow, were won their title in the Shepherd Neame Essex League last term, defeated Upminster.

Skipper Rob Coldwell and his 16-year-old son James enjoyed a 197-run partnership.

They both scored centuries as Harlow declared on 335-5 after winning the toss and deciding to bat.

"I finished with 123 and James scored his maiden hundred, finishing unbeaten on 100 exactly," Rob said. "We collected 36 fours and 11 sixes between us in our partnership."

Upminster were then bowled out for 53 with Niall Lawless the pick of the bowlers with five wickets.

Good win for Harlow LTC

HARLOW Tennis Club men's second team began their Essex League division four campaign with a 5-1 home victory over Billericay II.

Daniel Stevenson gave the hosts a great start with a 6-2 6-0 win over the Billericay 1st seed player.

Harlow's Bob Barnett lost 3-6 2-6.

But, Craig Whymark and Cliff Devonshire completed comfortable wins of 6-2 6-0 and 6-0 6-0 respectively to give Harlow a comfortable 3-1 lead after the singles round.

Stevenson and Devonshire then continued their excellent form by beating the Billericay first doubles pairing 6-2 6-1.

Whymark and Barnett lost the 1st set 3-6, but won the second set 6-0 and took the match on a championship tie-break 10-7.

Wet's going on as cricket season stutters

HARLOW Town's progress in the Shepherd Neame Essex League was hindered by the weather at Epping on Saturday.

The outfield was so wet that the division three game was called off.

The 2nd XI narrowly missed out on victory as Epping II clung on for a draw.

Epping were chasing 207 for victory after

Town declared with Pat Yates (73) and Shaun Alderson (32) top scoring.

Epping never looked like reaching that total.

Town gave all 10 outfield players a bowl and had Epping nine wickets down but run out of overs despite Simon Rowell claiming three wickets.

Epping finished on 127.

Town's first team take on Woodford Green at home this Saturday.

In division one, promoted Harlow host Orsett. Luke Heskett's side then face a rearranged Shepherd Neame Essex League Cup first round game at Woodford Green the following day.

Treble cup joy for Harlow & District League team

Rouge Lyon 1, Marquis Sports 3

Harlow & District League Cup final

WITH Rouge Lyon looking to add the Harlow & District League Cup to the premier division title and Marquis aiming for another piece of silverware, there was plenty at stake in this final at Harlow Town FC.

The crowd had to wait until 30 minutes for the deadlock to be broken.

James Thomas won the ball from Sam Zanone just inside the Rouge half, beat two defenders before his cross found Roydon Weekes who slotted home from eight yards out to give Marquis the lead.

Rouge went in search of the equaliser and Ricky Cook forced Glenn Armstrong into making a number of quality saves to keep the scoreline 1-0 to Marquis at the end of the first half.

The second half was only 10 minutes old when Weekes slotted home from close range after some fine work by Thomas.

The game became stretched and both teams had a few chances to find the net, but with Armstrong in the Marquis goal in fine form one end and Adam Dalby at the other end for Rouge pulling off a number of saves, the scoreline remained 2-0.

This was until the hour when Rouge's Martin Beard – who had only been on the pitch a few minutes – found space to unleash a fine effort into the net.

On 70 minutes, Cook's volley crashed onto the bar with the rebound falling to Niall Boland, but again Armstrong saved well.

With only five minutes left a reckless challenge by Rouge's Louis Davis left the referee no alternative but to show a red card and Marquis took advantage of the extra man in the closing stages when Thomas found Horn to slot home number three.

Marquis on the day had more desire to win this one and add the League Cup to the Premier Cup this season.

Parsloe Ath 1, Marquis Sports 3

Harlow & District League, Premier Division Cup final

MARQUIS Sports took the honours in a game of different halves, coming from 1-0 down to overcome Parsloe Athletic in the Premier Division Cup final at Harlow Town FC.

Parsloe took the lead on 25 minutes when a Dean McAteer free-kick was headed home by Justin Cockman at the far post.

Parsloe could have made it two when Anthony James hit the bar on the half-hour mark.

The second half was only 10 minutes old when a corner was headed into his own net by Chris Webb to level the score.

Just five minutes later James Thomas controlled a long ball well, beat two defenders before slotting past the keeper to give Marquis a 2-1 lead.

With both teams attempting to find that all-important next goal, it was to fall to Marquis.

A Jamie Horn shot was well blocked by Dean Aken in the Parsloe goal, but he couldn't keep out the rebound from Roydon Weekes in the closing minutes as Marquis claimed a well-deserved victory.

Parsloe Ath 1, Marquis Sports 2

Harlow & District League, Senior Champions League final

IN a repeat of the Premier Division Cup final, Parsloe faced Marquis who were seeking a cup treble.

Parsloe had the best efforts in the opening 15 minutes with Chris Grove clearing a Justin Cockman effort off the line and Glenn Armstrong saving well from Gavin Cockman.

Marquis applied some pressure with Greg Williams coming close with a free-kick from 20 yards.

On 24 minutes a deep cross from Anthony James found Gavin Cockman at the back post to head home and give Parsloe the lead.

On 42 minutes a Williams free-kick found Roydon Weekes' head at the near post to rocket into the top corner and level the score at half-time.

Marquis took the lead on 65 minutes when an excellent volley from Williams nestled into the net.

Weekes, Grove and Williams were denied by the Parsloe keeper, while James and Gavin Cockman were thwarted by Armstrong.

With just five minutes remaining Anthony James was sent off for Parsloe for foul and abusive language to the assistant referee.

Marquis held on and celebrated a brilliant treble of cup wins.

Maiden 2, Mark Hall 1 (aet)

Harlow & District League, Division One Cup final

MAIDEN took the honours in a well matched Division One Cup final against Mark Hall at Harlow Town FC.

Both teams played their part in an entertaining final.

Maiden opened the scoring when a Darren Hudgell pass found Micky Kennedy who drilled in.

Mark Hall's Timi Sosanya ensured the game went into extra time.

Kennedy then turned provider, finding Dan Gillard to knock home the winner.

Athletes triumph by a single point

5:00.6 for second.

Bauer explained: "Every point was vital as we were losing out on the track, but luckily we were stronger in the throws than Victoria Park and we managed many second places in the track events but the result could not have been closer."

Glen Paxman gained victory in the A pole vault with 2.60m.

Craig Snook won the B pole vault with 2.00m.

Glen also won the B shot put with a throw of 9.00m.

Craig was second in the A javelin with a throw of 38.20m, while Glen threw 34.66m for second in the B event.

Bauer threw a season best in the discus to win the A event with 38.71m and also won the A hammer with a throw of 34.24m.

However, his shot put was not up to its usual standard and he had to be content with second in the A string with 9.83m.

"None of us threw well in the shot today," he said afterwards. "I was beaten today by 20cm!"

Harlow are top of the division two north table with 12 points and 343.5 match points.

Other results: Glen Paxman: 100m A 11.7s 3rd; 200m A 24.1s 2nd; 400m A 53.2s 2nd; 400 hurdles A 67.5s 3rd; high jump A 1.70m 2nd; long jump A 5.88m 2nd; triple jump A 12.01m 2nd.

Carl Paxman: 100m B string 12.1s 3rd; 200m B 25.6s 4th; 400m B 56.9s 2nd; 800m B 3:16.4 5th; high jump B 1.50m 3rd; long jump B 5.87m 2nd.

Steve Down: 110 hurdles B 20.6s 3rd; triple jump B 10.33m 2nd.

Chris Clark: Hammer B 20.48m 2nd; discus B 16.11m 5th.

4x100m relay, 48.5s 2nd; 4x400m relay 3:42.6s 2nd.

Final results: 1st Harlow 175 points; 2nd Victoria Park & Tower Hamlets 174; Braintree 125.5; Milton Keynes 113; London AC 68; London Heathside 67.5.

Langley Girls secure President's Trophy joy

LANGLEY Colts girls teams have enjoyed huge success this season.

The Church Langley-based club now has four teams playing in the Essex County Girls League.

The club's Under-12 team, in their first season, won the President's Cup for their age group last weekend.

They won 3-1 against Forest Glade in the final at the Ford Sports & Social Club in Basildon. They came from a goal down to triumph.

This comes off the back of a good weekend at the Bognor Regis tournament in West Sussex where they finished third in their age group.

The club's U-13 side were also represented at Bognor and put on a good showing.

Road race League off to poor start

IT was a disappointing start to the Herts/Essex Midweek Road Race League division one for Harlow Running Club.

Having been promoted from division two last year, Harlow were up against some top runners from Stevenage, St Albans, Welwyn Garden City, Barnet and Trent Park running clubs in the first race over a 10km course at Stevenage.

Harlow finished the first race in last place in both the men's and women's races and so 6th overall.

In the men's race, Steve Murtagh finished 11th out of 234 runners and was 3rd veteran 40 age group in an excellent 35 mins, 07 secs.

He was followed home by Rob Lowe (33rd in 37:18), Jamie Jephcott (57th in 39:12); and Steve Mackenzie (63rd in 39:45).

Roy Steven was 81st and 3rd vet 60 in 41:01.

There were personal best (PB) times for the distance for Sean Flynn, Paul McFarlane and Paul Schroder.

In the women's race, Julia Gardiner was 14th out of 115 runners in a superb 43:12.

She was followed by Vicky Steadman (25th in a PB of 44:17), Paula Reynolds (26th in 44:25) and Dionne Reynolds (31st in 46:05).

There were also PBs for Georgina Spenceley (51:12, 52nd) and Clare Sullivan (55:36, 92nd).

● AT the Great Baddow 10 Mile Essex Championships in Chelmsford, first Harlow runner was Jamie Jephcott in 54th place out of 670 finishers in 1hr 5min 10sec.

He was followed home by John Tennant (135th), who was 2nd Vet 60 and took the Essex Championships silver medal in 1:12.16.

Andy Kinney was 236th in a PB of 1:17.56 and Andy Bradley was 270th in 1:19.19.

Other HRC Midweek League results:- Men: 89th Andy Terrell (41:25, 90th); Adrian Fell (41:27, 104th); John Tennant (42:43, 105th); Jason Haigh (42:46, 108th); John Bull (43:02, 126th); Daniel Jephcott (44:44, 150th); Matt Jones (46:09, 152nd); Peter Ayling (46:19, 155th); Vince Hayward (46:37, 160th); Graham Pugh (46:48, 209th); Terry Heapy (54:22, 219th); Ron Newton (55:42). Women: Wendy Spring (54:22, 69th); Karen Moir (54:45, 71st); Alison Bull (58:29, 82nd); Susan Dewen (59:19, 98th); Pauline Galoppi (61:19, 107th).

Wimpole 10K (Cams): Sean Flynn (31st out of 447 in 46:17); Paul Schroder (220th in 57:14).

Birchanger 10K: Vicky Steadman (45:32).

Braughing 10K: Jon Steadman (47:40).

GB th-rivalry spurs on Osagie

THE quest to become the first British male middle-distance Olympic medalist since 1988 moves into overdrive this summer as Harlow's World Indoor bronze medalist Andrew Osagie and European Championships' silver medalist Michael Rimmer go up against each other and a world-class field at the Aviva London Grand Prix.

Both athletes stated their case for a place in the Olympic final with world-class performances at the Doha Samsung Diamond League last week with Osagie smashing his personal best, clocking 1 min 44.64 seconds, and Rimmer narrowly behind in 1:44.86 – the first time that two Brits have ran sub-1:45 in the same race since 1992.

Harlow Athletic Club member Osagie narrowly edged out Rimmer in Doha, and is keen to continue his early season form at Crystal Palace on Friday July 13.

"I like racing no matter who it is against, I prefer it when I get to race against the best in the world and Michael [Rimmer] has proved he is one of the best in the world over the past few years," said Osagie (24), of Northbrooks.

"The Crystal Palace Diamond League is the last big race [before the Olympics] in front of a British crowd, a crowd which is always the best to run in front of, so I can't wait to be a part of the experience. A good run in London would set me up for the Olympics and I would love to win at Crystal Palace."

Rimmer is playing down the rivalry between the two, admitting that he is in charge of his own destiny as he looks to Crystal Palace to prepare him for the biggest summer of his career.

"Any rivalry is a positive whether it's between people from the same country or not. It's what sport is about and makes things more exciting. For me it makes no difference where my opponents come from, I simply try to concentrate on what I do best."

But before the Aviva London Grand Prix, the Brits will come face-to-face at the Aviva 2012 Trials and Osagie is confident that despite the fierce competition, he has what it takes to secure a place at his first Olympic Games.

"My strength is racing and for someone to beat me now they will have to be very strong. The closer it gets, the more realistic it becomes. It would mean a lot to me to be selected and to run

GREAT HOPE:
Andrew Osagie

well at the Olympics," said the former Leventhorpe School student.

"I often look back and think that if I didn't win a small race back in Harlow when I was 15, I wouldn't be where I am now – so needless to say I'm glad I did."

But Osagie and Rimmer's inclusion in the British team is not a foregone conclusion, and with Mukhtar Mohammed, Gareth Warbuton and Joe Thomas all in contention, Britain could send their first full complement of 800m athletes to the Olympics since Atlanta in 1996.

Chambers and Co aid Britain hopeful Sam

SPRINTER Sam Watts insists he is looking towards mixing it with the best athletes on the continent this summer – and is enlisting some Olympians to help.

The 20-year-old Harlow-born athlete has begun the outdoor season in style, winning a 200m invitational race at the BUCS Championships at the Olympic Stadium this month – his time of 21.16 seconds was just 0.06 off his personal best.

That was only Watts' third race of the outdoor season and, having gone on to win the Essex County Championships' 100m title the following week, he has trained his sights on the senior European Championships in the Finnish capital of Helsinki this summer.

And after spending some time training with British regulars Dwain Chambers and Marlon Devonish, the former Leventhorpe School pupil is optimistic about his chances.

"I have been hitting personal bests in training and we are not even in full swing yet, but then again running them when it matters is a different thing," he said.

IMPROVING: Sam Watts (s)

"But I'm feeling positive because generally I have always run faster when I have been racing than when I have been training.

"I thought I would be much more average than I have been, my 100m has got so much better. I'm known for being a pretty awful 100m sprinter, but I was making finals last year.

"I used to be a very nervous runner, but I have spent too much of my career worried and not sleeping so I try not to think about it too much any more.

"I have been working with Dwain and Marlon so I'm hoping with a bit of input from them and I should be improving my start, especially. If I can hang on to them racing in training then I should be looking good."

Watts' European Championship bid has been boosted by the confirmation that he will be one of just 8,000 people to carry the London 2012 Olympic torch, courtesy of Lloyds TSB.

And Watts – who will run with the flame through Bishop's Stortford on July 7 – could barely hide his delight at the selection.

"I was so pleased because it's a once in a lifetime opportunity," he added. "You train so hard to be the best you can be in your sport, but to be recognised in this way for what I do with my sport is a dream come true in that respect."

"There are a little bit of nerves, but I'm just excited to do it. I'm not sure what to expect or what is going to happen afterwards. But it 100 per cent feels like my hard work has paid off in a sense because I wasn't expecting it, as there are so many other athletes out there."

Watts competed at the Loughborough international meeting on Sunday and was 6th in the A-string 200m final in a time of 21.80s.

Team show a little goes a long way

A TEAM of five athletes from Harlow AC proved small is beautiful as they recorded a massive haul of 191 points to finish fourth out of seven teams in the Southern Women's League on Saturday.

Steph Fuller, chairwoman of the women's section at HAC, had a very busy and productive afternoon.

She was 5th in the long jump (2.40 metres), 6th in the shot put (6.37m), 2nd in the discus (24.34m), 5th in the hammer (18.26m) and 4th in the javelin (16.77m).

Other seniors who shone included Dawn Jones, who was 1st in the high jump (1.50m), 1st in the triple jump (9.43m), 3rd in the 200m (32.6s) 3rd in the B-string javelin (14.00m) and 3rd in the B discus (14.00m).

In the Under-15 girls age group, Amy Hunt had two excellent wins in the 100m (14.2s) and the 200m (31.6s).

She also gained a 2nd in the long jump (3.45m).

Naomi Harriman won the 75m hurdles (12.6s) and was 1st in the high jump (1.35m).

She was 2nd in the javelin (18.17m).

Ellie Williams won the B 75m hurdles (14.7s) and was 2nd in the B long jump (2.93m).

● ALEX Hill, from Old Harlow, represented Herts Phoenix AC in a Southern League division one meeting at Milton Keynes.

She won the B-string 400m in 59.62s.

She also ran the quickest split in the 4x400m relay, helping her team win this event.

Herts were second in the four-team meeting.

Anne's top Swiss timing

ANNE Wafala Strike record a season best of 17.55 seconds in the 100m at the Swiss Championships.

The Harlow wheelchair athlete will carry the Paralympic Torch in a 24-hour relay from Stoke Mandeville to the Olympic Stadium on August 28-29.

"She has been chosen for her charity work and not for anything to do with her athletics achievements," said her husband Norman Strike.

Wafala Strike, of Willowfield, headed to Manchester on Tuesday for the Paralympic World Cup.

'Slugfest' sparks season but Harlow just fall short in run chase

RUNS were aplenty at Marigolds as Harlow went down fighting in a bumper day of cricket which saw 23 sixes and some 660 odd runs scored in a 100-over 'slugfest'.

Chasing Hornchurch's mammoth 347-5 from their 50 overs, Harlow proved they have the fight required for this division as they ended on 321-9, just 27 runs short of what would have been an astonishing victory.

Despite Harlow's valiant attempt, skipper Luke Heskett was left fuming at his side's bowling and fielding which left them with a huge mountain to climb.

"We bowled and fielded well below standard. That could be put down to first game rustiness, but we must dramatically improve if we are to compete in this division as we learnt today how higher a step up in class it will be."

Andy McGarry and Ahmed Khawaja bowled tight opening spells without taking wickets, before young seamers Anthony Webb bowled opener Jamie Sorrell and Luke Monger took the wicket of danger man Michael Bones.

Khawaja then had the equally dangerous Billy Gordon trapped lbw to leave Hornchurch 60-3 and Harlow in control.

But a mixture of poor bowling and fielding and some incredible batting from Kiwi Elliott Timoti and Aussie Nathan McAndrew turned their innings around.

Timoti fell for 157 off just 137 balls, while McAndrew's innings ended on 137.

Hornchurch hit 14 sixes and finished just short of 350.

Despite losing opener Rehman Ahmed for 0, Harlow were given a flying start by a classy looking Monger (44 off 39 balls) and league debutant and new signing Usman Jan (26 off 19 balls) as 100 was reached after just 12 overs.

A few wickets went, but Khawaja then played an exceptional innings as Harlow kept up with the scoring rate.

He hit four huge sixes in passing 50. Khawaja was joined by hard-hitting youngster Andre Riddell and Hornchurch began to panic.

But when Khawaja fell just agonisingly short of a century on 98 and McGarry and Heskett were caught superbly in the deep, control was handed back to the visitors.

Riddell refused to buckle and scored his first league half century for Harlow.

He was assisted by 16-year-old Conor Ramsay (13) and 17-year-old Webb (11 not out), but Harlow finished just short.

Riddell was run out in the last over for a run a ball 83. This magnificent achievement for the youngster included three of Harlow's nine sixes.

Heskett added: "The response was fantastic, a superb batting display. Ahmed was looking very dangerous and confident which is a great sign early on. Luke Monger looked amazing in his 44 runs and I'm sure he will make some big scores this season."

"Andre's innings showed courage and maturity beyond his years. It was a fantastic innings and we were all very proud of him on Saturday. It was a massive positive to take from the match."

Athletes triumph by a single point in thrilling league meet

THE men's team at Harlow Athletic Club managed a narrow victory on Saturday in their home Southern League match at Braintree to win the meeting by a single point ahead of Victoria Park & Tower Hamlets. Great performances were put in by Under-17 athletes Will Snook and Sam Gale, who both won their 800m races in personal bests (PB). Will's race was a clear victory as he pulled away from the opposition to win convincingly in a time of 2 mins 04.05, taking 0.09 of a second off his best and was five seconds ahead of his nearest rival. Sam also proved too good for the opposition as he won in a time of 4:19.4, taking 0.1 of a second off his PB and was 3.5 seconds ahead of the second-placed athlete. Harlow's other wins were in the B string 110 hurdles for Glen Paxman in 21.8s and in the B string 400 hurdles for Steve Down in 66.1s. Captain Dave Bauer said: "This was a tough match for Harlow with some of the other teams turning out improved sides leaving us fighting for every point. "We are still missing U-17 sprinter Jack Reed with a hamstring injury and Steve Down competed today with an ankle injury, crossing the line in his 400 metres hurdles race almost at a walk." Harlow AC were joined by two runners from Harlow Running Club who competed in the 5,000m and 3,000m steeplechase (SC). Steve Murtagh ran 16:58.8 for second place in the A 5,000m (PB) and 11:49.7 in the A 3,000m SC again for second place. He was backed up by Jamie Jephcott with 18:24.5 in the B 5,000m for third place and 12.03.7 in the B 3000m SC for second place. Jephcott also ran the B 1,500m in
